P WITH P

May mean "Poisoned with Potash." This is the case with hundreds who have been unable to take Sarsaparilla. Potash mixtures, etc., until digestion is almost fatally impaired. Swift's specific is a vegetable remedy and restores the system to health and builds up the waste made by these poisons.

VICTIMIZED!

But Finally Relieved by S. S.

I was suffering with Blood Poison, and treated myself with Mercury and Potash, only to make my worse. The Potash took away my appetite and gave me dyspepsia, and both gave me rheumatism. I then took Sarsaparilla, etc. All these Sarsaparilla mixtures have Potash in them. This made me still worse, as it drove the poison further into my system. A friend insisted I should take Swift's specific, and it cured me of the Blood Poison, drove the Mercury and Potash out of my system, and to-day I am still as well as I ever was."

GEO. O. WELLMAN, Jr., Salem, Mass.

Cured Thoroughly and Absolutely.

John J. Smith, the largest merchant in Gainesville, Ga., writes: "I suffered for years from the combined effects of Diabetes and Eczema. I continued taking medicine containing Potash, S. S. S., cure me thoroughly and absolutely. My appetite, strength and flesh returned as I was cured with."

GOV. CLEVELAND'S VISITORS.

HOPEFUL DEMOCRATS.

BLAINE CAN GET NO SOUTHERN ELECTORAL VOTES.

Mahone certain to be beaten in Virginia—Florida and West Virginia safe for Cleveland—Tilden to be at the Reception—The Tilden Political News of the Country.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The democrats who attended the meeting of the national committee spoke encouragingly of the outlook for the ticket. The southern members said that Blaine's managers talked buncome and that they predicted that he would carry one or three southern states: they were confident that all those states would go to the democratic candidate.

Mr. Barbour, of Virginia, said that Mahone would be beaten in that state, and Mr. Paseo of Florida, who said that the republicans could not carry his state. Mr. Louis Baker of West Virginia, was asked by the committee to explain the cause and probable result of the reported dissensions in his state. He said that all the democrats there were for Cleveland, and that the local dissensions were for Cleveland, and that the local dissensions would be buried before October.

The reports from Ohio, Indiana, and Wisconsin were flattering. The commission appointed to make the plan of the campaign determined to pay particular attention to the northern states. Senator Gorman will probably be elected chairman of the executive committee.

Samuel J. Tilden has been invited to present when his nomination is tendered Governor Cleveland, and to-day he said as well as I ever was."

LET TRUTH TELL ITS STORY!

A Minister and the Orphans' Children.

Rev. L. B. PAINE, Macon, Ga., writes: "I have been using Swift's specific at the orphans' homes as a general health tonic, and have had remarkable results from its use on the children and employees of the institution. It is such an excellent tonic, and keeps the blood so pure, that the system is less liable to disease. It has cured some of our children of scrofula."

J. W. WUTZMANN, Sole Agent,
51 BROADWAY, N. Y.

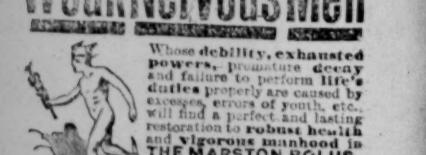

Mrs. Mary B. Welch, Teacher of Domestic Economy at the Iowa State Agricultural College, says:

I can毫不夸大地 commend the Charter Oak Range, with the wonderful wire gauze over door, made by the Excelsior Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis, and invented by Mr. Giles F. Illey, as the best cooking apparatus within my knowledge, and one that will not fail in any respect to give the fullest satisfaction to all who may use it."

RAILROAD NEWS.

THE HEADLIGHTS RUNNING INTO ATLANTA.

The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad—Changes on the Richmond and Danville Railroad—The Brunswick and Western—Local and General Railroad Notes.

From the Jacksonville Times Union.

The report that the Brunswick and Western railroad, running from Brunswick to Albany, Georgia, had been purchased by the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad, has so far failed to be authenticated. The agent of the Savannah, Florida and Western road in this city says that if such a purchase has been made he is not aware of it. This is the road which has had several surveys made and was expected to build the branch road from a point near Jesup to Hart's road, to connect with the Fernandina and Jacksonville road to the city.

Steel rails are reported sold at $27 yesterday, a discount on all previous prices. People thought "bottom" was reached months ago.

A Mississippi Law Declared Void.

Canton, Miss., July 23.—In the suit of the Yazzo and Mississippi Valley railroad company against the state board of railroad commissioners, heard here to day before Chancellor Parker, the commissioners, in their opinion, held that the railroad was unconstitutional and void in so far as it attempts to divest, impair or interfere with the charters of complainant. The case has been appealed to the supreme court of Mississippi.

The Louisville and Nashville.

From the New York Mail and Express.

In regard to the sudden rise in Louisville and Nashville to-day, it is believed that it was made in every direction where information was possible obtainable.

Sam Smith said there was nothing new in the company's affairs, and the rise was as much a mystery to him as to the public generally. Other officials made similar statements. Brokers attributed the rise in the market to heavy buying to London and elsewhere. Subsequently, it was learned that the road had been secured in England where 135,000 out of 250,000 shares were held. It was further stated that the management of the road would be remodelled on the plan found most successful in the operation of railroads in England.

Locomotive Points.

Captain Charles, general manager of the Atlanta and West railroad, has ordered the purchase of new engines. These engines have a seventeen inch cylinder, and very high drivers. They will be put in service for the exposition business, and will be the heaviest engines in the south.

The passenger agents say that travel is slightly off.

The cutting of salaries and consolidation of offices reported to some of the roads has had a depressing effect upon railroad men. A veteran in the business was heard to remark, the other day, that he would just as soon take his chances as a newspaper man as to run the risks to which he was subjected.

The following changes have been made in the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, which originated from Atlanta: The former formerly known as the Atlanta, now leaves at 7:15 p.m., arriving in Macon at 7 o'clock. The train formerly arriving here at 8:30 p.m., will arrive here at 8:50 p.m., leaving Macon at 4:45 instead of 4:39. Under the changed schedule passengers leaving this morning will breakfast at Jackson, where Mr. John T. Lark is in charge of a first-class eating house. Passengers on the train arriving here at night will take supper at Jackson.

THE CONSTITUTION,

ATLANTA, JULY 27, 1884.

INDICATIONS for the South Atlantic states at 1 a. m. to-day: partly cloudy weather, and occasional rains, southwesterly winds, stationary temperature.

THERE were several franchise meetings held throughout England yesterday, all of which were attended by immense crowds. John Bright presided at one of them. Catching inspiration from Dawa, of the New Sun, the universal cry was, "The lords must go."

TWO AMERICAN citizens are held in imprisonment in the City of Mexico, without trial or remedy, because of some disparaging remarks made by them about the president of that country. Such a president would be too thin-skinned to withstand the terrors of a campaign north of the Rio Grande.

The action of Bibb county yesterday in endorsing Hon. James H. Blount for renomination to congress, assures the republi- can continued services of one of the best congressmen who has come to the surface since the war. More than that, it shows that THE CONSTITUTION has a large circulation in Bibb as well as in several other counties.

A poor Italian, making his way, with his family, up the Mississippi river, has suddenly become the cynosure of a nation's eyes. His child died on the way: the rumor went abroad that it was from cholera, and the name of Piccetto went to the uttermost ends of the earth. Later developments show that there was no trace of cholera in the case.

EARLY COUNTY was the scene of a lynching yesterday, in which determined men emphasized the sentiment that the women of the country, who are unable to protect themselves, must be shielded from the assaults of brutal wretches. The law should take its course but criminals have no right to complain when outraged humanity rises in vengeance against them.

THE deadlock in the first district has been ended by the nomination of Hon. Thomas M. Norwood, whose name is greeted with a perfect storm of applause. The return of Mr. Norwood to public life will be received with satisfaction throughout the state. In the fourth district, Hon. Henry R. Harris gained another county, Muscogee having instructed for him.

CAPTAIN JACKSON TO-MORROW NIGHT. To-morrow night Captain Harry Jackson will make a formal and final address to the people of this country.

We bespeak for him a full and impartial hearing. He has carried two counties already by large majorities and barely missed carrying a third out of the four that have acted. In every county he has an enthusiastic and devoted following. He is a man of splendid ability, of high character, of long and earnest service to his party and his state, and he deserves the fullest consideration at the hands of his people. He carries into the canvass more that is precious to him, and more depends on the result for him, than is usually the case. His fair name has been assailed, and he will on to-morrow night speak to this issue. That he will have the earnest, sympathetic attention of thousands of the good people of old Fulton goes without saying. We ask for him the courtesy of a hearing from every man who can possibly attend.

HON. P. L. MYNATT.

In this issue we publish cards from Colonel Mynatt and from his delegates announcing his withdrawal from the race for the nomination for congress from this district. The cards speak well for Colonel Mynatt and his friends, many of whom insist that if he had continued in the race he would have carried this county next Wednesday by a hand-some majority because of the large, quiet vote they claim for him, and his decided popularity. He has seen fit, however, to withdraw, and we commend the manly way and the spirit in which he has done so. He certainly has nothing to lose by this action, and we think much to gain. No one questions his integrity, ability or patriotism. His candidacy has enlisted a most complimentary following, and the purity of his political record is most gratifying to his friends.

As a lawyer, Colonel Mynatt stands with the first in the state. The law firm of Mynatt & Howell has been in existence six years and has a large practice at this bar, and we feel that Colonel Mynatt, while he would make a most able and acceptable congressman, will really be better off in pursuing his profession.

CROPS AND BUSINESS.

The wheat crop of last year was 425 million bushels, and the arithmetic man will be willing since summer began to put the crop of the present year at 408 million bushels. But now when the crop is nearly harvested and much of it threshed and actually measured, he is compelled to raise his estimate to 550 millions, or about 50 millions more than any previous yield. All the men who make crop estimates declare that such a crop was never before gathered in this country, and that we will have at least 200 million bushels to send to Europe at any price it will bring. The chances are against high prices. India, Australia and South America will also have wheat to sell, and unless the European deficiency is larger than is now anticipated, cheap bread will be a blessing on both sides of the water.

As each crop matures and is harvested this year, it proves unusually large. If this rule is continued through the season, the tonnage laid—we will have 2,000 millions bushels of corn and seven million bales of cotton.

Nature could not do more for us than she promises to do this year. Great crops, peace and an industrious people—and yet there is distress in nearly every household, and depression in business circles. There is no natural cause for all this, and the cause must be looked for among men; and if our rulers of the past twenty years could be closely interrogated we might succeed in finding the true trail. Extravagance, corruption and legislation in the interest of the few have prevailed, and at the end of it all the country is in so distressed a condition that even uncampaigned crops cannot restore prosperity. The present condition of the industries and of the trade of the country should be sufficient to drive out of power the men and the party which have brought it upon us. Mr. Blaine's misleading figures in his elaborate letter of acceptance are refuted by the daily list of failures, by what every voter sees and feels in his daily life. The country is ripe for a change.

THE GORDON EXPEDITION.

The English people have forgotten the brave officer they sent to the Soudan. They are hunting tories now, and the rebels of the desert do not interest them. The government feels so secure in its campaign against the lords that it does not care to go on in earnest.

It has dispatched, however, an expedition to Khartoum—an expedition almost as fantastic as the dispatch of General Gordon to capture practically unaided the false prophet and his army. The relief expedition is under the command of Colonel Colville and Major Worthy, and consists of about 125 Bedouins, and a camel train of about equal number, carrying food and water for two weeks. This expedition is marching across the desert with a view of reaching the Nile south of Wady Haifa, at a point called Amara. Here they must begin another march across the Nubian desert if they hope to reach or outflank Barber, now in the hands of the rebels; and even if no serious collision occurs north of Barber, it is difficult to see how this handful of men can reach the gunboats that General Gordon is supposed to maintain control of.

A thoughtful observer who has studied the beer question in our cities does not agree with the position taken by some people that the introduction of lager beer has reformed our drinking habits. To a certain extent it may be true of young men and business men, but it has had the effect of increasing the drinking habit among the poor, and especially among the women. Beer is cheap, and is moreover drunk up as a temperance drink.

Poor people with the blues gradually get to drinking beer because they find that it makes them either jolly or stupid. Later on they find that beer creates thirst. They drink two or three glasses and want more. Almost always it is the beer that they are drunk, and it is generally admitted that a beer drink is worse than any other kind. Ale is not so bad. After drinking four or five glasses of ale it becomes nauseating and a man has to stop. It will be a difficult matter to stop beer drinking. People insist that it is not intoxicating; that it is good for the health, and as the effect is stimulating, it is natural that poverty, mental depression and bad health should lead people to indulge in a beverage which they have taught to regard as harmless. The beer evil is looming up as the abled bodied brother of the whisky evil. It is only another direct road to drunkenness, disease and Jimmies, and it is time to show it up in its true colors.

EDITOR WATTERSON continues to worry with the tariff. But what sort of fun will we have if the tariff is all torn up before the democrats come into power.

EDITOR DANA has finally concluded that fat is better than none with a bad record.

THE CHOLERA.

The progress of the Asiatic plague in France has been slow. It appeared in June, and it has not become epidemic outside of the department of Bouches-en-Rhone in the southeastern corner of France, Toulon, Marseilles and Arles are the considerable cities of this department, and in all of these the disease is epidemic. It is also epidemic in the neighboring villages. But it is decreasing in both Toulon and Marseilles, and only sporadic cases have occurred beyond the Marseilles district. The populous city of Lyons, situated in the Rhone valley about one hundred miles up the river from Marseilles is free of the disease, and Paris is untouched. This gives hope that the disease is either of a milder nature than usual, or else the conditions for its propagation are unfavorable. It is at any rate moving slowly, and sanitary science stands ready to fight its appearance on new ground. The people of the European countries begin to think there will not be a great cholera epidemic, although Dr. Koch says that.

But cholera is an eccentric disease. It lies dormant when it is expected to be virulent, and it jumps sometimes to places that least expect it. The reported case in the lower Mississippi valley, direct from Toulon, is not therefore surprising. If investigation shows it to be a case of Asiatic cholera, it does not follow that it need overrun the Mississippi valley and the country; for if the authorities are vigilant and energetic the germs of the disease can be stamped out before they gain a foothold in the soil. The doctors and the sanitarians can ward off the disease, if the government will do its part. In the meantime, let us not get excited until the history and nature of the Port Anderson case are fully ascertained.

THE RAILROADS AND THE TRUCK FARMERS.

The time has come, it seems to us, when the railroads must decide whether they will profitably farm in the state. The law firm of Mynatt & Howell has been in existence six years and has a large practice at this bar, and we feel that Colonel Mynatt, while he would make a most able and acceptable congressman, will really be better off in pursuing his profession.

IT is stated that the roads bring western freight into the south at about one-half of what they charge to carry freight out of the state. That is, the western farmer can ship his corn into Georgia for one-half what it costs the Georgian to ship his melons to the west. We have been told that the great need of our roads was return freight. They have complained that they hauled long trains of cars into the south filled with western corn, hay, and meat, and hauled these cars back empty. We have been told that if we would urge our people to raise or produce something that might fill these cars on the return trip it would cheapen freight both ways, and that our home-raised produce could be carried at even half price, as a car filled with low-priced freight was better than an empty one. The reverse seems to be the rule adopted by the roads.

CROPS AND BUSINESS.

The wheat crop of last year was 425 million bushels, and the arithmetic man will be willing since summer began to put the crop of the present year at 408 million bushels. But now when the crop is nearly harvested and much of it threshed and actually measured, he is compelled to raise his estimate to 550 millions, or about 50 millions more than any previous yield. All the men who make crop estimates declare that such a crop was never before gathered in this country, and that we will have at least 200 million bushels to send to Europe at any price it will bring. India, Australia and South America will also have wheat to sell, and unless the European deficiency is larger than is now anticipated, cheap bread will be a blessing on both sides of the water.

As each crop matures and is harvested this year, it proves unusually large. If this rule is continued through the season, the tonnage of our conviction that we will have 2,000 millions bushels of corn and seven million bales of cotton.

Nature could not do more for us than she promises to do this year. Great crops, peace and an industrious people—and yet there is distress in nearly every household, and depression in business circles. There is no natural cause for all this, and the cause must be looked for among men; and if our rulers of the past twenty years could be closely interrogated we might succeed in finding the true trail. Extravagance, corruption and legislation in the interest of the few have prevailed, and at the end of it all the country is in so distressed a condition that even unex- aminated crops cannot restore prosperity.

The present condition of the industries and of the trade of the country should be sufficient to drive out of power the men and the party which have brought it upon us. Mr. Blaine's misleading figures in his elaborate letter of acceptance are refuted by the daily list of failures, by what every voter sees and feels in his daily life. The country is ripe for a change.

W. K. has no doubt that Bryant's appoint- ment was the result of a petition on the part of the old maids of Rhode Island. He has been bulldozing these kind-hearted old cre- ditors for money every fortnight during the past five years. He tells them that he is educating the rebels and sweeping them into the Northern Methodist church.

JAY GOULD is rich. He owns the republican party and a great many other things.

LOAN was nominated for vice-president on account of his mustache. It is thought the workmen are mashed on a large, dark, flaming mustache.

It is plain to be seen that nobody in this country loves the workmen as well as Mr. Blaine and the editor of the New York Tribune. The workmen seem to be Mr. Blaine's misleading figures in his elaborate letter of acceptance are refuted by the daily list of failures, by what every voter sees and feels in his daily life. The country is ripe for a change.

The law firm of Mynatt & Howell has been in existence six years and has a large practice at this bar, and we feel that Colonel Mynatt, while he would make a most able and acceptable congressman, will really be better off in pursuing his profession.

IT is stated that the roads bring western freight into the south at about one-half of what they charge to carry freight out of the state. That is, the western farmer can ship his corn into Georgia for one-half what it costs the Georgian to ship his melons to the west.

We have been told that the great need of our roads was return freight. They have complained that they hauled long trains of cars into the south filled with western corn, hay, and meat, and hauled these cars back empty.

We have been told that if we would urge our people to raise or produce something that might fill these cars on the return trip it would cheapen freight both ways, and that our home-raised produce could be carried at even half price, as a car filled with low-priced freight was better than an empty one. The reverse seems to be the rule adopted by the roads.

CROPS AND BUSINESS.

The wheat crop of last year was 425 million bushels, and the arithmetic man will be willing since summer began to put the crop of the present year at 408 million bushels. But now when the crop is nearly harvested and much of it threshed and actually measured, he is compelled to raise his estimate to 550 millions, or about 50 millions more than any previous yield. All the men who make crop estimates declare that such a crop was never before gathered in this country, and that we will have at least 200 million bushels to send to Europe at any price it will bring. The chances are against high prices. India, Australia and South America will also have wheat to sell, and unless the European deficiency is larger than is now anticipated, cheap bread will be a blessing on both sides of the water.

As each crop matures and is harvested this year, it proves unusually large. If this rule is continued through the season, the tonnage of our conviction that we will have 2,000 millions bushels of corn and seven million bales of cotton.

Nature could not do more for us than she promises to do this year. Great crops, peace and an industrious people—and yet there is distress in nearly every household, and depression in business circles. There is no natural cause for all this, and the cause must be looked for among men; and if our rulers of the past twenty years could be closely interrogated we might succeed in finding the true trail. Extravagance, corruption and legislation in the interest of the few have prevailed, and at the end of it all the country is in so distressed a condition that even unex- aminated crops cannot restore prosperity.

The present condition of the industries and of the trade of the country should be sufficient to drive out of power the men and the party which have brought it upon us. Mr. Blaine's misleading figures in his elaborate letter of acceptance are refuted by the daily list of failures, by what every voter sees and feels in his daily life. The country is ripe for a change.

W. K. has no doubt that Bryant's appoint- ment was the result of a petition on the part of the old maids of Rhode Island. He has been bulldozing these kind-hearted old cre- ditors for money every fortnight during the past five years. He tells them that he is educating the rebels and sweeping them into the Northern Methodist church.

JAY GOULD is rich. He owns the republican party and a great many other things.

LOAN was nominated for vice-president on account of his mustache. It is thought the workmen are mashed on a large, dark, flaming mustache.

It is plain to be seen that nobody in this country loves the workmen as well as Mr. Blaine and the editor of the New York Tribune. The workmen seem to be Mr. Blaine's misleading figures in his elaborate letter of acceptance are refuted by the daily list of failures, by what every voter sees and feels in his daily life. The country is ripe for a change.

THE GORDON EXPEDITION.

The English people have forgotten the brave officer they sent to the Soudan. They are hunting tories now, and the rebels of the desert do not interest them. The government feels so secure in its campaign against the lords that it does not care to go on in earnest.

It has dispatched, however, an expedition to Khartoum—an expedition almost as fantastic as the dispatch of General Gordon to capture practically unaid

FINE TOMATOES.

Rev. R. J. Bigham, pastor of the Methodist church, is as satisfactory as a grower of vegetables as he is as a minister. On yesterday he exhibited a basket of tomatoes that were a credit to a professional gardener. A beautiful red "Trophy" that weighed 26 ounces, and a very fine cluster of the "Amen" variety, were among others in the basket.

SOCIAL GOSSIP.

THE FEATURES OF THE WEEK CHRONICLED.

Entertaining Our Company—The Movements of Our People Abroad—Marrying and Given in Marriage—Topics of Interest to Our Lady Readers—Theatrical Matters, Etc.

The weather of the past week has been quite warm. Not many have been disposed to venture on the streets, as they did, there was an inclination like La Mode Fomme's "Outline," to melt away into the shade.

The weather is comparatively but little sickness in the city, and it is well for all to guard against it. Unripe and stale fruit or vegetables increase sickness. Another thing, food does not digest as well in warm weather as in cold. People should not eat as heartily in the summer as in the winter, it overpowers the system with morbid matter. Eat less, because digestion is less vigorous, retire early, do not dance too much, keep cool, and don't go in debt.

Business of all kinds seems rather dull just now, and tradesmen complain that they cannot meet with success in collecting old debts. The fall months are looked forward to with the social as well as business world in anticipation of lively times. The farmers of the country are hopeful, and their season's gains adds to and makes up the society and business of communities, small towns and large cities. The pick and the plow, the hoe and the reaper, the raker and the scythe, have been utilized in this season, and those who are engaged in the business of the earth, and the rearing of the rain have blessed the farmers with smiling fields, emerald pastures, flushing grain, and a cash return will come in after awhile and bring more vitality among us, brighten up society and business.

The meeting of the press association, reunion of confederate soldiers and the assembling of ten thousand people, added to the life of the city through the week.

Invitations are out which read, you are respectfully invited to attend the marriage of Miss Nora Hardeman and Mr. C. J. Hood, Baptist church, Wednesday July 30th 1884, 8 o'clock a.m. Hardeman Grove, Ga.

A Delightful Dance.

Last Friday evening the residence of Captain J. B. W. Howell on Piedmont street, another one of those delightful dances was given by the people of that street. The young ladies all looked beautiful in their beautiful toilets, and it was hard to tell which was the prettiest. Among the visiting young ladies were Miss Williams of Augusta, Miss Carrie and Mrs. B. A. Howell, Miss Williams of Atlanta, was voted by the young gentlemen to be the prettiest young lady at the dance. The evening was most delightfully enjoyed.

Delightful Entertainment at West End. A most enjoyable and recherche entertainment was given in honor of Mrs. Thompson's music class of the West End academy, by Colonel and Mrs. Howell, at their handsome residence in West End. The early part of the evening was devoted to instrumental and vocal renditions by the young ladies of the class, and the young men singing and the strains of sweet and artistic music, draw forth by fair hands, was indeed remarkable.

The entertainment of a very different sort, was Miss Bessie N. Dunn, in a sort of special menu. The merits of this young woman as a musician are attested by the award to her of the first prize in the competition between the Effie Howell and Adair for the second medal, which was decided by lot. The latter being favored in the drawing card, secured it. Deserving of whom the card, were Misses Dee Murphy and Ida Howell. Their exertions were indeed, as they have received only a few months ago, and Mrs. Howell, and Miss Adair were also a prominent feature of the programme. The medals were gracefully and appropriately mounted, and Mr. J. B. Howell, the recent recipient of the medal for decoration at the Virginia Military Institute.

The entertainments of the partners were many, so in variety were the performances, and long will be recalled with pleasure the generous hospitality of the accomplished host and hostess.

The Oconee Boat Club.

One of the most tasteful and unique entertainments that has ever been given in our city, was given on Friday afternoon and former fitting close to the gaities of commencement week.

The boat club was well received, given by a few of their gentlemen friends also participating.

A coach and four, with a committee of the club, were on the ground Saturday afternoon, and upon their arrival at the boat house at six o'clock, the fleet immediately started.

The boat club followed by following the gentlemen, who were on the boat, the "Ivia." Mr. W. H. Fleming and Miss Nelly Craig of Augusta; Mr. W. H. Barrett, Jr. and Miss Nelly Stowe.

The Wedding March.

STEADY—RAISE. On Wednesday evening, July 23rd, at the residence of M. A. Rosenfeld, 241 Whitehall street at 4:30 o'clock, Mr. A. Strauss, of Mayville, South Carolina, and Miss Mary, of New York, were united in holy wedlock, according to the rites of the Rev. Dr. Jacobson, of this city.

After the ceremony a period of congratulations cordially followed, and the bride and bridegroom bearing good wishes and congratulations were received from the north, south, east and west. A large number of relatives who were present, were then invited to an elegant dinner, one to delight the most highly educated, and the occasion one to which the bride and bridegroom were congenial, and the evening a joy to all.

The wedding march, the bride, an exceedingly pleasant and intelligent young lady, a sister of Mrs. Rosenfeld. Mr. Strauss is a prominent and highly esteemed man for Mayville, their future home, to-day.

The Constitution extends the wish that soft summer breezes may ever, and love's perfect trust surround them.

SANDERS—RANSEY.

On the evening of July 23rd, at 8 o'clock, Miss Alice V. Ransay, of New York, Mrs. S. B. Ransay, and Mr. James H. Sanders, of Fulton, a prosperous merchant in Woburn, in this county, were married at the residence of the Rev. W. P. Rivers yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. P. Rivers officiated at the Methodist female seminary, for her, her graduating poem having been published in the Constitution.
